

Robin Hill Guide Book Challenge!

Do you have the skills to get your work published in a new travel guide book for children?

Student Introduction

- ▶ Pen your way to being published!
- ▶ Can you inject an excitement and enthusiasm into your writing?
- ▶ Can you make a destination come alive for your reader?
- ▶ Are your skills of description good enough to persuade someone to want to experience an activity?

Teaching resources by Education Destination Ltd.

Curriculum relevant materials supporting school trips to the Isle of Wight

Book today with Education Destination and get full access to this and hundreds more quality resources

www.edudest.uk

TASK

- » You are going to write a page (or two) for this guide book about Robin Hill.
- » The first thing that you need to do is to investigate examples of tour guides for children (and perhaps adults) so that you can immerse yourself in the power of words and images.
- » Your page will also need to be informative as you need to show how much fun can be had in an action-packed day!
- » Remember – the audience for your work is KEY: you have to make Robin Hill sound truly fantastic for primary-age children!
- » It is essential that you plan your page(s) carefully:
 - ✓ Which rides will you emphasise?
 - ✓ Which activities offer the most fun?
 - ✓ How will you use colour and images to really appeal to your target audience?
 - ✓ Could you include quizzes and activities for children to complete?
- » How you present your page is up to you. Think about what you would like to see on your page because you are writing for children of your age!

PLAN

CONSIDER:

Persuasive / descriptive words

Vocabulary for children

Which activities / what to say about them
(include adult as well?)

Describe your own experiences to emphasise the fun!

Layout (bullet points, paragraphs, headings)

Photographs?

Links to the website / more information

Teaching resources by Education Destination Ltd.
 Curriculum relevant materials supporting school trips to the Isle of Wight
 Book today with Education Destination and get full access to this and hundreds more quality resources
www.edudest.uk

